MISSION

To enhance the health and well-being of all children by nurturing the academic success and career development of child health professionals engaged in research, advocacy, improvement science, and education.

REGION MEETINGS

Through its regional meetings, APA brings together pediatric professionals, trainees, researchers, educators, and partners to strengthen connections, share knowledge, and advance the future of child health.

VISION

The Academic Pediatric Association envisions a thriving academic pediatric community that ensures optimal health and well-being for all children, particularly those most vulnerable.

Who We Are

The Academic Pediatric Association (APA) is a professional organization representing roughly 2,000 child health professionals focused on academic general pediatrics, research, and education. Its primary mission is to improve child health by supporting faculty development, fellowships, and collaborative practice-based research networks.

Connect

with Leaders in Academic Pediatrics

The Academic Pediatric Association (APA) Regional Meetings offer exhibitors the opportunity to engage with a highly targeted audience of academic pediatric professionals in an environment designed to foster meaningful conversations and lasting connections. Unlike large national conferences, APA Regional Meetings provide an intimate setting where exhibitors can interact directly with attendees throughout the meeting.

Whether you are introducing a new product, sharing educational resources, recruiting faculty or trainees, or increasing brand awareness, APA Regional Meetings provide valuable opportunities to connect with professionals who are shaping the future of academic pediatrics.

Additional Information

Reservation & Payment

Exhibit and sponsorship opportunities are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Space is confirmed upon receipt of a completed application and payment.

Unless otherwise indicated, each exhibit includes two exhibit hall-only badges. All representatives of sponsoring organizations who wish to attend educational sessions during the meeting must register separately for the conference.

Cancellation Policy

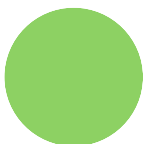

Cancellation requests must be submitted in writing by the published cancellation deadline. Approved cancellations will receive a refund less a $100 administrative fee.

No refunds will be issued after the cancellation deadline.

Sponsors and exhibitors are responsible for any non-refundable expenses incurred by APA on their behalf prior to cancellation, including custom-branded items such as lanyards, tote bags, promotional materials, or other sponsor-specific products. These costs will be deducted from any eligible refund or invoiced separately, if necessary.

APA reserves the right to modify or cancel the meeting due to circumstances beyond its control. In such cases, APA's liability is limited to the amount of sponsorship or exhibitor fees paid.

Let's Get Started

Thank you for considering a partnership with the Academic Pediatric Association. Your support helps strengthen our regional meetings and creates opportunities for pediatric educators, researchers, clinicians, and trainees to connect, collaborate, and advance child health together.

Terms and Conditions

Acceptability of Exhibits

The Academic Pediatric Association (APA) welcomes exhibits that support the educational mission of the Regional Meetings and provide value to attendees. Organizations offering products, services, programs, or resources relevant to academic pediatrics, medical education, research, healthcare, or professional development are encouraged to participate.

APA reserves the right to accept or decline any exhibitor or sponsor application and to require modification or removal of any exhibit or promotional materials that, in its sole judgment, are inconsistent with the educational purpose, professional standards, or policies of the meeting. Acceptance of an exhibit or sponsorship does not constitute an endorsement by the Academic Pediatric Association.

Exhibitor Responsibilities

Exhibitors are responsible for the security of their exhibit materials and personal property throughout the meeting. APA is not responsible for loss, theft, or damage to exhibitor property.

Exhibits must be installed prior to the published exhibit opening time, remain staffed during designated exhibit hours, and may not be dismantled before the official closing of the exhibit hall without prior approval from APA.

All promotional activities must remain within the exhibitor's assigned space and may not interfere with educational sessions or neighboring exhibitors. Audio, video, or other demonstrations must be conducted at a volume appropriate for the exhibit environment.

Exhibitors are responsible for complying with all applicable federal, state, local, venue, fire, health, and safety regulations. Any additional equipment, electrical service, internet access, furnishings, shipping, or other services beyond the Standard Exhibitor Package are the responsibility of the exhibitor.

Meeting Modifications or Cancellation

APA reserves the right to modify the meeting format, schedule, location, or exhibit arrangements, or to cancel the meeting due to circumstances beyond its reasonable control. In such cases, APA's liability is limited to the amount of exhibitor or sponsorship fees paid and shall not include travel, lodging, shipping, or other expenses incurred by exhibitors or sponsors.

Insurance & Compliance

Exhibitors are responsible for obtaining any insurance coverage deemed necessary to protect their personnel, exhibits, equipment, and property during the meeting. The Academic Pediatric Association (APA) is not responsible for loss, theft, damage, or injury to exhibitor property or personnel.

Exhibitors are responsible for complying with all applicable federal, state, local, venue, fire, health, and safety regulations, as well as obtaining any licenses, permits, or permissions required for materials or activities associated with their exhibit.

Code of Conduct

The Academic Pediatric Association is committed to providing a professional, respectful, and inclusive meeting environment for all participants. Exhibitors, sponsors, and their representatives are expected to conduct themselves in a manner consistent with APA's mission and values.

Organizations may promote only their own products, services, and educational resources. Promotional materials or activities that are misleading, defamatory, disruptive, or disparaging toward another organization, exhibitor, sponsor, attendee, or product are prohibited.

All exhibitors and sponsors are expected to comply with the APA Meeting Code of Conduct. Failure to comply may result in the removal of exhibit materials or termination of exhibit privileges without refund, at the sole discretion of APA.

Indemnification

The exhibitor agrees to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless the Academic Pediatric Association, the meeting venue, and their respective officers, directors, employees, agents, and contractors from any claims, damages, liabilities, losses, or expenses arising from the exhibitor's participation in the meeting or the negligent acts or omissions of the exhibitor, its employees, agents, contractors, or representatives.
