

PHM27 Mini-Plenary, Workshop and Clinical Quick Hit Submission Guidelines

New Orleans • July 29–August 1, 2027

Submission Deadline: Monday, December 14, 2026 at 11:59 PM ET

We are pleased to announce that the Call for Content is now open for PHM 2027, taking place July 29–August 1, 2027, in New Orleans. Submissions should be relevant to the field of pediatric hospital medicine and are welcome in three formats: Mini-Plenaries, Workshops, and Clinical Quick Hits.

Presenters are encouraged to propose engaging, innovative, and nontraditional session formats that incorporate active learning and provide opportunities for questions, discussion, and dialogue between presenters and participants.

Submission Formats

Please select the session format that best fits the content and intended level of attendee participation.

1. Mini-Plenaries – 75-minute didactic sessions that incorporate opportunities for attendee engagement. (1 main presenter and up to 3 co-presenters)
2. Workshops – 75-minute interactive sessions with significant attendee participation and engagement. (1 main presenter and up to 7 co-presenters)
3. Clinical Quick Hits – 30-minute didactic presentations focused on timely and relevant clinical content. (1 main presenter and up to 2 co-presenters)

Submission Requirements

Word limit: Each submission is limited to 650 words, including the title and body. You will be able to check your word count on the Submission Information page and in the Submission Information section of the Submission Overview page.

Capitalization and formatting: Titles will automatically be formatted by the submission system in all capital letters. Descriptions, references, author names, and other submission information should be entered using standard upper- and lowercase letters. Please do not enter this information in all caps.

Submission information may be published in the meeting program and should be entered carefully and consistently. You may draft your submission in a word-processing program, such as Microsoft Word, and paste it into the submission system. After pasting, review the content carefully—particularly special characters and formatting—to ensure it has transferred correctly.

Abbreviations and acronyms: Commonly recognized abbreviations and acronyms within pediatric hospital medicine may be used when appropriate. Examples include PHM, QI, ABP, ACGME, CME, GME, UME, EHR, ED, PICU, NICU, and LOS. Less common or specialized abbreviations should be spelled out at first use and kept to a minimum.

After You Submit

Submission confirmation: Only the corresponding author will receive an email confirmation of the submission. The confirmation email will include a copy of the submitted content. Please review it carefully to ensure accuracy.

If you do not receive a confirmation email, please check your spam folder. If you still have not received confirmation, contact phmmeeting@academicpediatrics.org.

Review, Notification, and Presenter Responsibilities

Review: Submissions will be evaluated using a standardized scoring rubric. To support a blinded review process, do not include author names or institutional affiliations in the title or body of the submission. Demographic information collected from the corresponding author will not be considered during the review process.

Notification: Only the corresponding author will be notified of the Planning Committee's decision. The corresponding author is responsible for communicating the decision to all co-authors and co-presenters. Notifications will be sent in early February 2027.

Registration: All presenters of accepted content are required to register for and attend PHM 2027. Accepted sessions may be scheduled at any point during the conference, July 29–August 1, 2027, so presenters should submit only if they are available to present on any of the four conference days.

Conflict of interest disclosure: All presenters of accepted content are required to complete a conflict-of-interest disclosure for continuing medical education (CME) purposes.
